Warning About Fraudulent Recruitment Activities

Please be warned that persons posing as recruiters may request that you pay a fee to have your resume considered by Chemtrade, or ask for a fee to provide you with assistance in obtaining an interview or preparing for an interview with Chemtrade, and/or they may ask for your personal information.

We would like to make it clear that Chemtrade, and its approved recruiters, never require candidates to pay a fee during the recruitment and hiring process. More specifically, if you apply for a position, receive an interview, and/or receive a job offer directly from Chemtrade, or through an approved recruiter, you will never be required to pay any money to the Company or the recruiter. In addition, we recommend that you do not disclose personal information to anyone other than Chemtrade or an approved recruiter.

As noted, we may use approved recruiters to support some of our recruitment activities. If you are unsure if you have been contacted by an approved recruiter and/or the legitimacy of a communication you have received, please contact Chemtrade at: hrinfo@chemtradelogistics.com. Please provide as much information as possible about the role you are interested in as well as the communication you have received.
